Ever walked into a room at your parents' house and wondered about the belongings in it? Where did the painting come from, why is the vase important, what is the story behind the medals?

Be a hero in your family and save stories with Thingealogy®.

Use Thingealogy® to collect stories of important belongings. The app makes it possible for you to save photos, audio recordings (listen to grandmom's voice describe her heirlooms), written descriptions, comments from family members, and even assign beneficiaries.

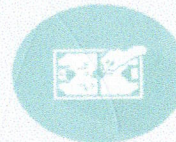

Take photos of meaningful things and record the story behind these belongings.

Assign these recorded stories now known as 'Things' to 'Collections,' like Furniture, Medals, Heirlooms, China, Invite your friends and family to add comments ~~when~~ you share via Text, E-mail, Twitter, or Facebook.

Designate beneficiaries for Things if organizing your possessions for downsizing or estate planning purposes.

your QR code and affix it to the back of your 'Thing' to aid in distribution or organization.

Purposeful Engagement

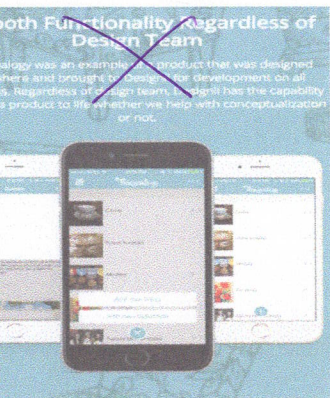

Engage your family, friends, or customers in fun and meaningful conversations about your belongings.

Too Many Use Cases to Count

Use cases ranging from organizing belongings for insurance purposes, complementary information for estate sales, or remembering your loved ones' stories behind family memorabilia.

A Feature-Packed Organization Tool Free for the First 10 Things

This feature-packed app is FREE for the first 10 stories you save. We figure most people have up to 10 heirlooms that they can tell a story about! After that you can incrementally add more stories up to an unlimited amount for $9.99. These unlimited accounts are used mainly by family heroes who are planning a big move or an estate distribution or sale.

Fun, Easy and Safe to Use

Thingealogy® has been expertly designed to make it easy and intuitive to use on your iPad, iPhone or smartphone. Once you log in to your account from any desktop, you can back it up on that hard drive too. If you have any questions about the App, contact us at help@thingealogy.com and we will get back to you ASAP.

Mission Behind The Thingealogy App

Our Client came to Designit with a very specific mission in mind. Below is a message from our client regarding the general moment behind their powerful and impactful product:

Family is our most treasured possession. It is the place where we are most often with the people we love. These cherished memories and stories are what make us who we are. Thingealogy was designed to help us collect these stories, so they can be saved and shared now and with future generations.

Mission Statement

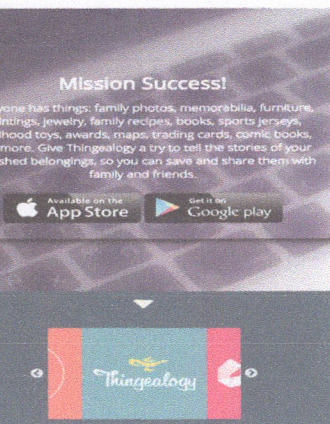

Our homes are filled with the people we love, collected memories, and our belongings, many of which are cherished because of the stories they hold. The purpose of Thingealogy® is to provide a system for family heroes to collect these stories, so they can be saved and shared now and with future generations.

Mission Success!

Confirm Your Hero Status Today!

Everyone has things: family photos, memorabilia, furniture, paintings, jewelry, family recipes, books, sports jerseys, childhood toys, awards, maps, trading cards, comic books, record collections and more. Give Thingealogy® a try to tell the stories of cherished family belongings.
